Wisdom For The Week :

Have you ever read what Patrick Henry actually said (that is the whole paragraph so you can see the context in which he said "give me liberty or give me death")? Here it is:

"An appeal to arms and the God of hosts is all that is left us. But we shall not fight our battle alone. There is a just God that presides over the destinies of nations. The battle, sir, is not to the strong alone. Is life so dear or peace so sweet as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it Almighty God. I know not what course others may take, but as for me, give me liberty, or give me death."

Now you know!

THE TRUE WISDOM OF WOMAN

Barbara Walters of 60 Minutes (USA) did a story on gender roles in Kabul several years before the Afghan conflict. She noted that women customarily walked about 5 paces behind their husbands.

She returned to Kabul recently and observed that women still walk behind their husbands, but now seem to walk even further back and are now happy with the old custom.

Ms Walters approached one of the Afghani women and asked. "But why do you now seem happy with the old custom that you used to try and change"
"Land mines," said the woman.

Consumer Tips

Want to surprise your spouse with a secret love message? Here is how you can do it. Put some soap on your finger and write the message on the mirror . When the wet soapy message dries you can not see it any more. (don't use too much soap or it will still show when it is dry. You can even write it with a bar of soap if you are careful not to press too hard and leave so much soap it shows after it is dry.... )

Now..... when your spouse takes a shower and the mirror fogs up, the water particles in the air will not stick to the soap on the mirror and the message will look like you just wrote it in the fogged up mirror with your finger..... (It is never too late to fall in love again you know)!

Ok Ok the real consumer tip is that if you wipe the mirror with soapy water and just let it dry and don't wipe the soap off then when you take a shower the mirror wont fog up.... But I like the love message idea better !!!!
