MoNdAy FuNnIeS

As you have heard President Bush is trying to revive the space program to send manned flights back to the moon.

Recently they were having a training exercise in the Arizona desert and an old Native American came up to the training location and asked to talk to the "BOSS".

The commander of the mission went to talk to him and the elderly gentleman asked if he would take this tape recording to the moon with them and if they found any people there to please give them the tape. The commander asked what was on the tape and the old man said he could not tell them, just please take it to the moon with them.

They tried every where to find an interpreter for the tape but no one would tell them what the tape said. Every one who listened to the tape refused to tell them what is said. Finally after months of searching they found someone who could understand that Indian language and who was willing to interpret it for them.

They all anxiously awaited as he listened to the tape. Then they asked him what it said. With a smile looked at them and told them the tape said, "WATCH OUT FOR THESE WHITE MEN, THEY WILL STEAL YOUR LAND".

ConsumerTipS

If you are having trouble opening a bottle, try putting on the rubber gloves you wash dishes with. That will increase your grip by a lot.
