

MoNdAy FuNnIeS

14 Nov 2005

From Cordell & Janice Vail

Our attempt to help you smile every Monday Morning

Copyright 2005 by Cordell Vail

1

---

Wisdom For The Week :

We can only see as far as we try to look.

Cordell Vail

---

MoNdAy FuNnIeS

(Contributed by Michael Lansberry .... Thanks Mike)

You may have heard some of these but they are still funny....

If man evolved from monkeys and apes, why do we still have monkeys and apes?

I went to a bookstore and asked the saleswoman, "Where's the self-help section?" She said if she told me, it would defeat the purpose.

What if there were no hypothetical questions?

If a deaf person swears, does his mother wash his hands with soap?

Is there another word for synonym?

Where do forest rangers go to "get away from it all?"

If a parsley farmer is sued, can they garnish his wages?

Would a fly without wings be called a walk?

Why do they lock gas station bathrooms? Are they afraid someone will clean them?

Can vegetarians eat animal crackers?

If the police arrest a mime, do they tell him he has the right to not remain silent?

Why do they put Braille on the drive-through bank machines? (Somebody please explain THIS ONE to me.. I know there must be a logical explanation, but it escapes me)

How do they get deer to cross the road only at those yellow road signs?

What was the best thing before sliced bread?

One nice thing about egotists: they don't talk about other people.

How is it possible to have a civil war?

If you ate both pasta and antipasto, would you still be hungry?

If you try to fail, and succeed, which have you done?

Why is there an expiration date on sour cream?

Can an atheist get insurance against acts of God?

~~~~~ Reader feed back on car rides for kids ~~~~~

Can I have a turn next? I don't even need to misbehave.

What a ride!

Thanks

P

~~~~~ Car rides for kids ~~~~~

How in the world did you do that picture?

Mike L.

---

Consumer Tips

~~~~~ Here are some suggestions on 72 hour kits ~~~~~

(Contributed by Carlton Schultz.... Thanks Carlton)

HELLO,

Thought you may want to build a 72 hour kit if you do not have one.
Here are some suggestions from a friend in North Carolina.

These are the basics for a 72 hour kit. Feel free to add to the list.
If you would like, pass this along to everyone else.

Food/Snacks/ Gum

Water

Clothes

Medicines

Flash light (Batteries)

100 hour candle

Lighter (cigarette lighter)

Rope 20-25 feet

Fishing line

Fishing hook

First aid kit

Tube Tent

Emergency Blanket

Emergency Sleeping Bag

Hand Warmers

Toilet paper

Sanitary supplies

Whistle

Toothbrush

Toothpaste
Dental Floss
Mirror
Mess Kit with Utensils
Compass
Zip loc bags
Trash Bags
Towel
Wash cloth
Soap
Shampoo
Needle
Thread
10 Safety Pins
Paper and Pen or pencil
Q-tips
Cotton Balls
Chap Stick
Lotion
Deodorant
Instant Cold Pack
Rain Poncho
Comb
Hand Sanitizer
Money

I also recommend that you have a couple of pairs of rubber gloves and a dust mask.

Also, you should make copies of birth certificates, marriage certificates, membership records, bank account numbers, names and addresses of family members, social security numbers, shot records, and any other important documents. Also a current family picture and individual picture should be carried by every member of the family. Make copies of all these things and shrink them down to a small size. Children should carry pictures and names and addresses of family members and some form of ID.

~~~~~ READER FEED BACK ~~~~~
OK OK Yes I checked out first and yes I knew the drivers license thing was a joke. I just could not resist. Cordell

<http://www.license.shorturl.com>

~~~~~ Reader Feed Back about Drivers license ~~~~~

Thanks for the smile in my day. I think the photo was a pretty good likeness. :)
love, Lisa

~~~~~ Reader Feed Back about car lock opener ~~~~~

I love the funnies! Thank you.
I wanted to say that I did try to use the keyless entry from my phone and it unlocked although I was still in my house when I tried it and the car was parked in the drive way while my daughter took the cell phone and put it by the car. I tried it again from further away and it did not work.
Thanks
Suzanna

---

CONSUMER WEBPAGE

~~~~~
More Reader Feedback On Oil Companies
~~~~~

= = = Original message From Mike = = =

Hi
one of my friends owns a private gasoline station here in southern Oregon( he use to own a string of stations) all the gas for southern Oregon except for

ARCO & Costco's comes from coos bay Oregon.....for each supplier the refinery puts their additives into the gas as it leaves the refinery.....the refinery uses crude from anywhere it can get it.....he sat next to me in an office for one year. he would get calls from the refinery (sometimes several in a day) raising or lower the price to him ....he also use to work at the refinery years ago and knew everything one person could know about supply of gasoline.....they buy from everyone on both your list when they can get it from anyone....there is only two who bring it down from Portland and that's ARCO & Costco ....your theory is great but it will have really no impact on them at all....people have to buy gas period until other sources are fully developed....We had a firm in LA that a member of our ward owned that developed several alternatives to gas ....guess who bought all their patens.....the gas companies.....my family owned the largest shale oil deposit in the USA that could power all the cars in USA for several years....my dad sold out to Union 76 oil and they still have done nothing with the property for the last 20 years...

Mike Stokes

~~~~~

More On Oil Companies

~~~~~

2001 - Chevron and Texaco merged ... history of working together goes back to the 1930's.

Shell bought out most of Texaco's assess in the west (Equilon - jointly owned by Shell/Texaco) to allow the Chevron/Texaco deal to move forward ...

Which tells me they're all in the same bed ... jumping for joy as they stuff $$$$$ into the mattress they're jumping on.

I wouldn't be surprised if they were all just one big partnership.

They're all buying/selling pieces of each other.

Arnie

CLICK HERE TO GO TO:

2005 index: <http://www.mondayfunnies.com/mf2005>

Previous Joke: <http://www.mondayfunnies.com/mf2005/051107.pdf>

Next Joke: <http://www.mondayfunnies.com/mf2005/051128.pdf>