Wisdom For The Week :

I am careful not to confuse excellence with perfection.

Excellence, I can reach for.

Perfection is God's business.

Want to have some fun with your name?

www.Howmanyofme.com is a fun site.

There are no other Eldene Jeppson's in US.

No one spells their Eldene the same way I do.

There are 1380 or so Jeppsons.

The names are compared to the 1990 US Census.

Well of course I treid it myself... and found out I don't even exist...booo hooo I was having such fun in my life..

- There are 0 people in the U.S. named Cordell Vail.
- While both names you entered were found in our database, neither was common enough to make it likely that someone in the U.S. has that name.

I feel so uncommon now.... Ummmmmm Cv

HOW TO PROTECT YOUR HOME AGAINST LOCK PICKING!

I talked to a lock smith and asked him how to best secure you home. He said that most keys have 5 pins. He said one thing lock companies have done to try to deter lock picking is to make locks with 6 pins. Those locks are much much harder for a thief to pick. But he said it is still possible if they are really good at it.

I asked him if key pad locks were pick proof because they have no key. He said they are better but can still be picked.

(here is an example of one on a web page
<http://www.nokey.com/codmeddutlev.html>)

He said the best defense against lock picking is a wireless security system (that way they can't cut your outside phone line and disarm it). They normally cost about $30 a month.

He said that the second best defense against lock picking is a good dog that will bark at intruders and big enough to protect your home if they come on in anyway.

He said the third best defense against lock picking was "SMITH AND WESSON" but I assume from the laugh after he said it, that he was kidding.

So you may want to check out security alarm systems if you are worried.
