Consumer  TipS

If you are wanting to create a preparedness kit, one thing that most people don't think of is matches. The easiest way to store a way to start a fire is to go to a hardware store and buy a striker that they use to start a gas welder. It is just a flint and a rough file that it strikes it over. Then take a few cottons balls and put a little Vaseline on them and put it in a Baggie. Now you have an instant fire starter in your kit. Try lighting one first so you have confidence it will work. Now your 72 hour kit is much better suited for survival.

If someone sends you an email telling of a virus threat, DELETE IT. If you hear it on the news turn up the sound and take heed. There is a new one going around and I will let you listen to the news for details about it. I have receive about 20 of those emails already this week.
